Any upgrades (e.g. Raptor Boost/100/40 plans) are additional to normal services and charges will be incurred for each upgrade.

How long does Uniti's Refer a Customer – Prezzy eGift Card – Promotion last?

Uniti's Refer a Customer – Prezzy eGift Card – Promotion is open to be accepted until 11pm September 30 2018 or, if Uniti publishes notice on the Uniti website at unitiwireless.com to the effect that Uniti's Refer a Customer – Prezzy eGift Card – Promotion remains open until another time, then until that time.

What is on offer with Uniti's Refer a Customer – Prezzy eGift Card – Promotion

–Under Uniti's Refer a Customer Promotion, Uniti will give a Prezzy eGift Card with a credit of $50 Australian Dollars, to

1. each existing customer – who has referred a new customer to Uniti, and that new customer has signed up for an Internet service, and that new customer has become a new customer of Uniti, and when that new customer signed up they entered the existing customer's Unique Referral Code; and
2. each new customer – who has signed up for a 24 month residential or business plan for Internet services.

What does “the new customer becomes a new customer of Uniti” mean?

For Uniti to offer $50 as an incentive to participate in this promotion costs us money. To be able to offer this money, Uniti spread the cost of the promotion over the life of a service contract. So, to recover some of those costs, if the new customer's service is cancelled at any time during the 24 months from the commencement of services, Uniti will recover an amount pro rata on the amount of the contract remaining and add that to the new customer's early termination fee. A new customer of Uniti's means:

1. the new customer has signed up on-line via Uniti's website at unitiwireless.com for a new 24 month residential or business Internet service; and
2. the new customer has at the time of signing up for their new service, entered the existing customer's Unique Referral Code; and
3. the work of Uniti's Installers, installing the equipment necessary to provide an Internet service to the new customer, is complete, and the work of Uniti's Network Engineers, connecting the new customer's Internet service to Uniti's wireless broadband Internet network, is complete, and the new customer's new Internet service is connected successfully; and

4. the new customer does not cancel the new 24 month residential or business Internet service at any time during that 24 month period.

If all of those criteria are present and complete, the new customer will be a new customer of Uniti's for the purposes of Uniti's Refer a Customer – Prezzee eGift Card – Promotion and for the purposes of being eligible to receive a Prezzee eGift Card worth $50. But, if the new customer cancels their service within the 24 month period, then the new customer will no longer be eligible to receive a Prezzee eGift Card worth $50. So, rather than ask for the whole $50 to be returned, Uniti will simply add to the new customer's early termination fee, a pro-rata amount, to reflect the time remaining on the new customer's 24 month Internet services contract – for example, if the new customer cancels their 24 month contract at the end of 12 months, Uniti will add $50 to the new customer's early termination fee.

What does “existing customer of Uniti” mean?

We appreciate that making a referral does take time and effort. That is why we offer $50 as an incentive to participate. But, similarly, for Uniti to offer such a substantial promotion, also takes time and effort, and it also costs us money. Uniti think that loyal and enthusiastic customers bringing in new customers is a wonderful way of spreading the word and building our community, and we think that our advertising money is well spent in promoting the Company and our Super-Fast broadband Internet services this way. To be able to offer this money, Uniti spread the cost of the promotion over the life of the service contracts. But that means if a contract is ended early Uniti will, unless we recover some of those costs, lose money. So, to recover some of those costs, if the existing customer's service is cancelled during the 6 months from the commencement of the new customers services, Uniti will recover $150, applying that amount to the existing customer's account, and if the existing customer's service is cancelled at any time after the end of the period 6 months from the commencement of the new customer's services, Uniti will not recover anything. Uniti don't want to be twerps about this, but we've had a few odd experiences with this promotion, for example one existing customer referred a relative, they each claimed the $50, then the next day the customer cancelled his service, and then moved to the site of the new service – it turned out he had sold his house and moved home with his mum. Uniti thinks that it's not really in the spirit of the promotion for Uniti to pay a customer $200 to relocate their service from one site to another. So, we have to be clear about what's in and what's not, and in the event that there is any doubt, then Uniti reserve all rights to use our absolute discretion to make a determination about what is and what is not conduct that is satisfactory for a new customer or an existing customer to be eligible to receive the benefits of the promotion. So, to be an “existing customer” the customer must be a customer of Uniti: at the time that the referral is made, at the time that the new customer signs up, and the existing customer must not cancel their residential or business Internet service at any time during the 6 month period after the new customer's service commences. If all of those criteria are present and complete, the existing customer will be a new customer of Uniti's for the purposes of Uniti's Refer a Customer – Prezzee eGift Card – Promotion and for the purposes of being eligible to receive a Prezzee eGift Card worth $50. But, if the existing customer cancels their service immediately, or at any time within the 6 months from commencement of the new customer's service, then the existing customer will no longer be eligible to receive a Prezzee eGift Card worth $50. However rather than ask for the whole $50 to be returned, if the existing customer does cancel their service within the 6 months from the commencement of the new customer's service, Uniti will add $50 to their account.

What does a "Unique Referral Code" mean?

– a customer's "Unique Referral Code" is provided on each customer's "Your Details" section at Uniti's website at unitiwireless.com.

How does it... um, how does it work?

– eg Archibald, an existing customer of Uniti, is popular, has many friends, and is considered knowledgeable in the ways of IT by those friends, Archibald (or Archie to his many friends) refers all of his friends to Uniti, 11 friends sign up as new customers, 10 use Archie's Unique Referral Code, 1 does not use Archie's Unique Referral Code; all of the 10 friends who used Archie's Unique Referral Code and Archie remain customers of Uniti for the duration of the new customers' 24 month service, and Archie remains a customer of Uniti for 6 months after each referral, then Archie will be entitled to receive a 10 x Prezzee eGift Cards worth $50 each, for the 10 friends who used Archie's Unique Referral Code, but won't receive a Prezzee eGift Card (worth $50) for the friend who signed up without using Archie's Unique Referral Code. Additionally, all of the 10 friends who signed up using Archie's Unique Referral Code will be entitled to receive a Prezzee eGift Card worth $50, but the 1 friend who did not use Archie's Unique Referral Code, will not be eligible for the Prezzee eGift Card (worth $50). Lastly, if Archie cancels his service with Uniti within 6 months of the commencement of a friend's service, Archie will have to repay $50 of each $50 he received. For the avoidance of doubt, the new customer and the existing customer will remain eligible for payment under Uniti's Refer a Customer Promotion, only if:

1. the new customer does not cancel the new 24 month residential or business Internet service at any time during that 24 month period; and
2. the existing customer does not cancel their existing residential or business Internet service at any time during the 24 month period of the new customer's service.

In the event that either the new customer, cancels their new residential or business Internet service at any time during the 24 month period, or the existing customer cancels their existing residential or business Internet service at any time during the 24 month period of the new customer's service then both will be disqualified and neither the new customer nor the existing customer will be entitled to receive Uniti's Refer a Customer Promotion.

What if there is Funny Business?

– The idea of Uniti's Refer a Customer – Prezzee eGift Card – Promotion is to bring Uniti's Super-Fast broadband Internet services to more customers. We hope that existing customers will be excited about our broadband Internet services and will help introduce us to new customers and when they do that, and the new customers join up, the existing customers and the new customers will be rewarded. But there has been some Funny Business, some people have tried to take advantage of the promotion – for example Cyclops might sign up for a service, and so will be an existing customer, Cyclops might refer his friend Medusa, Medusa might sign up, but then the next day Cyclops might cancel his service. That seems a lot of trouble, but who knows what people have time to think about and get up to these days. Anyway, that type of carry on would be Funny Business, and it would defeat the purpose of the Promotion, and Uniti won't stand for it. So, Uniti reserves all rights to be an independent arbiter of fact and to declare that any conduct constitutes Funny Business, and to disqualify the participants in that conduct from this Promotion. We'll try and be fair, but in the event that there is some possible way someone could cheat the promotion, we'll not stand for Funny Business.

When do I get my money?

– once a new customer has signed up on-line for a new Uniti Wireless 24 month residential or business Internet service, and has at the time of signing-up used the existing customer's Unique Referral Code, and the equipment has been installed and Uniti has commenced delivering Internet services to the new customer, then Uniti will invoice the new customer for their new service, and the new customer will pay that invoice. Invoices will be presented to the new customer monthly. A new customer will be eligible to receive a Prezzee eGift Card under Uniti's Refer a Customer – Prezzee eGift Card – Promotion only after the first invoice, for the monthly service charges, for the Internet service for the new customer, has been issued by Uniti and has been paid by the new customer.

What happens if I got the money, but then things change?

– In the event that either the new customer, cancels their new residential or business Internet service at any time during the 24 month period, or the existing customer cancels their existing residential or business Internet service at any time during the 24 month period of the new customer's service then both will be disqualified and neither the new customer nor the existing customer will be entitled to receive Uniti's Refer a Customer Promotion. In that case, if Uniti has handed out the Prezzee eGift Card worth $50, then:

1. if the new customer cancels their service within the 24 month period, then the new customer will no longer be eligible to receive a Prezzee eGift Card worth $50 then Uniti will simply add to the new customer's early termination fee a pro-rata amount to reflect the time remaining on the new customer's 24 month Internet services contract; and
2. if the existing customer cancels their service immediately, or at any time within the 6 months from commencement of the new customer's service, then the existing customer will no longer be eligible to receive a Prezzee eGift Card worth $50 and Uniti will add $50 to their account.
